At 8 o'clock a musical program with readings by Miss Walker, of Fryeburg, will be given at the church.

When the Hair Falls

Stop it! And why not? Falling hair is a disease, a regular disease, and Ayer's Hair Vigor, as made from our new improved formula, quickly and completely destroys that disease. The hair stops falling out, grows more rapidly, and all dandruff disappears.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Formula with each bottle show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.

Mrs. Fremont Penley of Portland, visited at her daughter's, Mrs. Mabel Cole's, Sunday.

F. J. and S. R. Cole have bought the hay on the Foster place. With the present condition of the weather it will be near Thanksgiving-time before they can get it cut. There are others similarly situated.

Sylvester Cole has decided not to finish off the upper story of his new store into a rent barn but into a hall. An addition 12x15 feet will be added for a stage. This will leave a floor space 22x30 for hall, amply sufficient for local needs.

Your correspondent had occasion to speak of a Farmers' organization that had started in this State with a view to secure, through cooperation, better markets and better prices for farm and dairy products. We have learned since the name of the society is The Maine Protective Association. The initial movement was to get a better price for milk and at this writing it is understood that a rise of ten cents a can has been granted to those selling milk. This rise in price effects many farmers. This is a city who are "inland" over the new price.

EAST BROWNFIELD.

Mrs. Mary Poore called on Bertha Durgin, Tuesday.

Ellis Quint of New Jersey, called on his mother, Mrs. Catherine Merrifield, Sunday.

Mrs. Sylvia Smith went to Kezar Falls, Sunday, to visit her mother, Mrs. Cyrus L. Durgin.

The Pythian Sisterhood gave a dance at C. E. Jackson's last Wednesday, and had a large crowd and a fine time. They are going to have some more before fall. Ice cream and cake was sold, also all kinds of candy, cigars and bananas.

BUCKFIELD.

Streaked Mountain.

Mrs. Drucilla Dunn is visiting at H. W. Whitman's.

BRYANT'S POND.

Farmers Are Waking Up.

The farmers in this vicinity have at last woken up to the fact that they cannot earn their living by sending milk to Portland at three cents per quart, and then have the cans come back dirty and sour. The main part of the milk sent from this station is brought from two to three miles every morning to be at 4:22. This means get out of bed about three o'clock every morning, rain or shine, and make about a 17 hour day of it. The consumer in the city is compelled to pay eight cents per quart for this milk. Who pockets the lion's share of the money?

As the result of a little organizing among the farmers and a friendly argument or two with the milk dealers of Portland four cents per quart has been guaranteed after Aug. 1. This comes nearer to the motto, "Live and let live."

Mrs. Fannie Houghton is visiting in Portland.

Sam Bates is doing the plastering for Albert Russ.

Elsie Cushman is working for Mrs. Dana C. Dingley.

Mrs. Norman McAllister has been very sick but is better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Elden Ross of Rumford Falls came out in their auto Sunday, to visit G. A. Whitman.

Mrs. Horatio Bryant has been very sick for the past two weeks. Mrs. Marshall of West Paris came last Sunday for her nurse.

Mrs. Lura Cole Trumbull and son, Lincoln, of Worcester, Mass., came to her brother's, D. A. Cole's, last Tuesday for an extended visit.

Consider Farrar has been working for Dr. Whitman.

Mrs. Ben Ring is working at her son's place in the Bryant neighborhood.

O. L. Peabody has purchased a new Osborne mowing machine of F. J. Cole.

Mrs. Fremont Penley of Portland, visited at her daughter's, Mrs. Mabel Cole's, Sunday.

F. J. and S. R. Cole have bought the hay on the Foster place. With the present condition of the weather it will be near Thanksgiving-time before they can get it cut. There are others similarly situated.

Sylvester Cole has decided not to finish off the upper story of his new store into a rent barn but into a hall. An addition 12x15 feet will be added for a stage. This will leave a floor space 22x30 for hall, amply sufficient for local needs.

The Enterprise Quartetion.

Ethel Moore, accompanied by Albert H. Amstutz and Clara L. Snow, her fellow students at the New England Conservatory of Music, and Helen R. Chute of the Emerson College of Oratory, Boston, are visiting at Moll Dubier's for a few days.

Since the summer vacation these ladies, associated under the name of the "Enterprise Quartetion of Boston," have been touring several Maine counties and giving public entertainments, consisting of vocal and instrumental music and dramatic readings. They have visited thus far the principal towns in York, Lincoln, Sagadahoc and Kennebec counties, giving concerts with most gratifying success. They resume their course of entertainments, and during the next two weeks will visit several towns on the Grand Trunk R. R., and a few places nearby in Cumberland county.

The features of the combination are: Miss Monroe, soprano vocalist; Snow, violin; Amstutz, piano; Chute, reader.

Perley Howard of North Bridgton was in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Myrtle Phillips of Waterville recently visited her friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Whitney of Harrison visited their relatives, the family of J. Frank Howard, on Tuesday.

Doan's Kidney Pills Brought Strength

and Health to the Sufferer. Making him Feel Twenty-Five Years Younger.

Sick kidneys cause a weak, lame or aching back, and a weak back makes a weak man. Can't be well and strong until the kidneys are cured. Treat them with Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's the testimony of one man cured.

J. B. Corton,

farmer and lum-

berman, of

Depue, N. O.,

says "I suffered for years

with my back.

It was so bad

that I could not walk any distance nor

even ride in easy buggy. I do not believe

I could have raised

ten pounds of weight

from the ground, the pain was so severe.

This was my condition when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly relieved me and now I am never troubled as I was. My back is strong and I can walk or ride a long distance and feel just as strong as I did twenty-five years ago.

I think so much of Doan's Kidney Pills

that I have given a supply of the remedy to some of my neighbors and they have also found good results. If you can sit anything from this rambling note that will be of any service to you, or to any one suffering from kidney trouble, you are at liberty to do so."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Corton will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn

The Shakers.

For more than 100 years the Shakers have been living at Sabbathday Lake, holding all things in common and living as brothers and sisters. It was long quaint dress and peculiar religious manners that made their village attractive, especially on a Sunday morning; but there came a time when these meetings were closed to the world's people; and now it is said their form of religious worship has changed the same as all other churches. The Indians were the first to practice communism in North America, but the Shakers were the first white people to take up community living, and financially they have been very successful, their well-kept farm and shops having long been noted.

The community forms quite a little village and clusters about the trustee office, the only building open to the public except by courtesy. A short distance from the trustees' office stands the Central Dining Hall in which is the family dining room, library, music hall, chapel, elders' apartment and kitchen.

Just beyond is the Children's House, where the young people of the community are taken in charge by Sister Ada.

In this building is a school presided over by the young Shakers, Clair and brook Chase. Although this is one of the regularly established schools of the town of New Gloucester it has been under Shaker instruction since 1794.

Sister Ada, although not a woman of baby, is a motherly kind of woman and takes naturally to her work. She is skillful with her needle, and the dolls which she dresses in the old time Shaker clothes have become quite an article of merchandise in the modern times.

The ways of the world affect this community as it does those outside the wall of Shakerdom; and on the site of this but change of taste has driven an industry and its housing out of existence.

Yes, the world has influence here and two of the younger brothers, Delmer

Wilson and John Dorrington, have changed the old Shaker community over into something more modern. Years ago the Shaker gardens were noted for fine vegetables and luscious fruits, and of late the cultivation of flowers has been added, with a green house to grow them out of season as well as in. On the hillside above the garden stands a tank with a capacity for 80,000 gallons of water. This tank stands on the site of what was once known as the "Spiritual Fountain"—a fountain in which there never was any water, but which in the minds of the pious Shakers could be seen welling up to the very throne of God. These changes in horticulture are largely due to Brother Delmer; but his mechanical genius as well as an agricultural one.

The old fashioned hand drudgery, both outside and in, are gone, and labor saving machines have taken their place.

The Shakers have ever been known for their scrupulous cleanliness, and the

Fashions and Fabrics.

Albro R. Jenness.

Albro R. Jenness died at his home last week Thursday, at the age of 71 years. A short account of the cause of his death may be found on page 7 of this issue. He was born in Barton, Vt., February 13, 1836. He went first to St. Johnsbury, Vt., and from there to Boston in pursuit of work. He took the first job offered him, which was as a stoveholder handling freight at the wharves in Boston. He lived economically and in a short time had saved enough to buy a single truck team and commenced to do business for himself. He soon added other teams and later became a member of the Glover & Co. trucking establishment.

In the mean time he had made a home for himself, having married Mrs. Jenness, a daughter of Abigail Hill Osgood, after her decease. Abigail Hill Osgood, formerly a Fryeburg woman. He leaves two brothers and one sister, Richard H. Jenness and Austin P. Jenness, members of a trucking firm in Boston, and Mrs. M. C. Green of Cambridge, Mass. He was a member of the Pythogorean lodge, No. 1, F. & A. M. of Fryeburg, by adoption, having been raised in the John Abbott lodge of Somerville, Mass., a member of Waverly Chapter, and De Molay Commandery of Boston, a member of Kora Temple, Lewiston, and the Pythogorean lodge, No. 24, K. of P., Fryeburg.

The news of his death will bring unexpected sadness to a great many friends who have been blessed with his acquaintance. Mr. Jenness was, from manhood to 1875, a leading business man in Boston. By careful saving of his earnings he soon established himself in a business that gradually gave him a competence, when he died and came to Fryeburg, the early home of his wife.

Here he bought one of the finest residences in that historic old town and took up a life of ease. But the work habit was too strong to be laid aside, and he soon was engaged in various active enterprises. He was instrumental in securing and constructing the Fryeburg Water Works, furnishing the place with most excellent water from hills in New Hampshire, and also one of the promoters of the building of "The Oxford," that fine hotel which was burned last year, overseeing the building of it from foundation to finish. He engaged in lumber operations, being associated with E. B. Cotton and Dr. C. E. Harris, in a large cutting-up-mill, and also putting in an electric lighting system in the village. This mill was destroyed by fire three years ago, and at the time of his death he was having constructed a dam at Swan's Falls, to restore this plant.

His word was as good as his bond—his integrity beyond question. He was treasurer of the West Oxford Agricultural Society for several years, and also of the Fryeburg academy. As soon as he had placed those institutions on a good basis he gave them to other hands. He was a very generous man, and many a young man and woman has been assisted through the academy course by his liberality. Some of whom the writer knows, never knew from whence their tuition was paid.

But when he could turn from his business, out-of-doors sports claimed his attention. He was part owner in the Small Point club, being one of its founders—had a fine camp at East Sebago in common with two of his intimate friends, James Merrill of Falmouth and H. B. Cotton of Conway, N. H. He also shared with Col. E. C. Farrington, a gunning camp at Lower Keegan pond, for 30 years he and Col. Farrington had annually met for fall shooting. No man in that part of the State has done more for the fish and game interests than Mr. Jenness. He was always ready to put out his money liberally to stock waters or to protect fish and game. He was a charter member of the Maine Sportsmen's Fish and Game Association and continued an active member to his death.

It was the writer's good fortune to be his friend. To be near a man like Mr. Jenness, was to come in touch with the best that is in manhood. He loved nature as few men do. The ripple in the water, the floating shadowy clouds upon the mountain sides, the fall of the autumn leaves, the songs of the birds, and in the sweet scented fields he would gather lessons of love and good will to man.

How often I have sat beside him in the early October morning, when the great orb of day came up in the east and cast its first rays upon the mountain tops of Mt. Washington, Bald Face, Keegan and kindred mountain giants, lighting up their crests with a crimson glory, and heard him say, "this is a sight worth living to see, and how few there are whose heart and soul have been moved by so beautiful a view as this." His memory and his good name rests securely in the hearts of his hosts of friends.

The funeral services were held at his home in Fryeburg on Sunday afternoon, July 29, at 1 o'clock. The burial exercises were conducted by Rev. E. N. Stone, pastor of the Church of the New Jerusalem. They consisted of reading of the scriptures, prayer, the reading of Tenneyson's "Crossing the Bar" and a brief address by the pastor, "O Lord All Glorious, Life of Life," the chant, "Behold, the Tabernacle of God is With Them" and "Gathering Home" were sung by a quartet composed of E. T. Newman, tenor; Mrs. E. E. Hastings, soprano; Mrs. L. O. Wentworth, alto and C. G. Willard, bass.

The floral tributes from friends and fraternal orders were very many and they were arranged in many beautiful designs. The pall bearers were, Dr. C. H. Harris, John L. Osgood, Wesley McKee and L. R. Charles. The burial was in Pine Grove cemetery where the Pythogorean lodge, F. & A. M., No. 11, with representatives of the K. K. Temple of Lewiston, held Masonic services which were conducted by Past Master Edward E. Hastings, with Frank Sawtelle as chaplain.

The editor of this paper received the following letter from a mining camp in Colorado: "Dear Lady:—I have read in a German newspaper there are more women in your town than men. This is just the reverse in this town as there are more men than women. Now I wish to put an ad. in your paper for an elderly maiden lady for a life companion for myself, and I want to find out if such is the case or not, and what it would cost for two or three ads." If any of the elderly maiden ladies, who read this, want the address of this lonely man it will be given them. Address this office. Enclose 10 cents.
